Dear Dr. Artur Jurczyszyn,

On behalf of the organization committee, we are honored with pleasure to invite you as a special speaker of the 2019 Chinese Myeloma Meeting, which will be held in Xuzhou, Jiangsu, China on November 9th to 11th, 2019.

This symposium aims at gathering the most prominent investigators in the field of multiple myeloma from America, Europe and Asia. We expect to provide an opportunity for them to discuss most recent advances in laboratory and clinical studies on myeloma, to facilitate close communication and collaborations, and to accelerate progress in this field through our common efforts.

We would greatly appreciate it if you would like to accept the invitation and give a special lecture of 25 minutes. We are looking forward to hearing you at your earliest convenience via e-mail. In addition, all the expenses, including international airfares, ground transportation, hotel and accommodations, etc. will be paid by us.

We look forward to seeing you in Xuzhou and hearing of your research advances.
